2017 NEC Changes

Friday, September 14, 2018

Learn the new rules going into effect with the latest NEC

There were many new rule changes in the NEC! Are you on top of all of them? Familiarize yourself with the 2017 NEC and keep yourself ahead of the pack by attending this class. Get your questions answered by an expert.

About the Class: The entire state of Pennsylvania will be enforcing the 2014 NEC but Philadelphia has petitioned and been approved to enforce the 2017 NEC for all commercial projects. If you or the company you work for install commercial electrical equipment or electrical systems in Philadelphia city limits this class is a must. Space is limited so make your reservations early. Attendance at this class is going to ensure that the attendee is made aware of the new NEC requirements and make certain that the electrical installation is able to pass inspection on the first try.

Who Should Attend: Electrical contractors, project managers, job foremen, plant maintenance personnel, engineers, architects, electricians and HVAC tradespeople. Join in on this class and get your questions answered. Become a leader in the electrical field and in your career.
