

The Electrical Association of Philadelphia
Stay Sane and Profitable
2014 NEC Code Class
Thursday, August 23, 2018

Are You Ready?

Pennsylvania is finally advancing from the 2008 NEC. As of October 1, 2018, Pennsylvania will be using the 2014 NEC as the enforcement document for electrical projects in the public domain.

About the class: This one-day class will educate contractors on what NEC changes are about to be enforced for work being conducted in Pennsylvania. With a focus on the 2014 NEC, our instructor will also cover several of the 2011 NEC changes since Pennsylvania is jumping two codes ahead.

Why you should attend: Attendees will learn what electrical equipment must be installed and what is the correct way to do it. Receive answers to your questions and walk away with ways to save time, money and your sanity!
